

Day one - Inn Marin

Left Santa Cruz about noon and drove up the coast. It was a beautiful day for a drive. Wild flowers, green rolling hills, fluffy white clouds and white-faced cows were a few of the lovely features. Stopped for lunch in Half Moon Bay so we got to Marin about 4 PM. Staying the night at Inn Marin in Novato. Quite a nice, quiet little place. Found a great Mediterranean restaurant around the corner. Life is good. We pick up Woodzilla in the morning.

From the road ...
Jane and Susan